TULLY-CONVOY HIGH SCHOOL
Convoy, Ohio

Foreword

This book is a fulfillment of a desire created in the hearts of the Freshmen four years ago; it is a reminder of the work accomplished, friendships formed, and activities participated in by all the classes of Tully-Convoy High School. By picturing scenes of Indian life we have endeavored to revive the memory of our copper-colored ancestors. The Staff wishes to thank the Faculty and those of other classes who have helped.

Dedication

Though we try all our lives, we Seniors can never begin to repay the debt that we owe those who have guided our footsteps through grade and high school. Their patience, their deep understanding, and their examples have made us want to be men and women worthy of their efforts. For twelve years we have been taught by them, never fully realizing what great opportunities were being afforded us. Now we take pleasure in trying to show a little bit of our gratitude by dedicating this, our volume of the Bellerophon, to our beloved teachers.

TULLY-CONVOY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education for the Tully-Convoy School has played an important part in the development of it. They have always shown an intense interest in, and have always helped to solve any difficult problem that has arisen among the members of the faculty and the student body. They have also shown that they can act quickly and wisely in a time of emergency.

Mr. W. P. Freck, who was elected president, has served two years as a member of the Board. Mr. Otto Hertz, the clerk, after having served one term, has been re-elected. Mr. Floyd Mollenkopf and Mr. Walter Hilton have served two years as Board members.

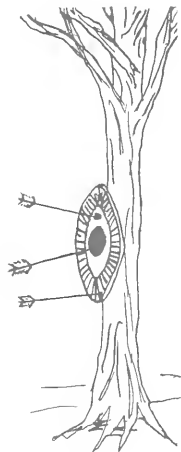

Mr. Walter Tracy, who has long expressed his interest in school affairs, has at last received the opportunity to engage actively in school work, having been elected to replace Mr. Roy Shearer.

In 1924 our school's student body was greatly increased by the consolidation of the Tully Township Schools with the Convoy School. Our school, at this time, was unable to care for the large enrollment.

The school board was an important factor in the authorization of bonds to be used for the construction of our present building.

We want our present school board and those that have served us in the past to know that we appreciate the things they have done to make our school one of the finest in the county.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

It was on the Monday morning of September 12, 1928, that fifty-four mere papooses in the world of higher learning found their way into the Indian reservation, better known as the study hall of Tully-Convoy High School.

Our first step was to organize and elect our class officers, namely: Hazel Rader, president; Ward McDaniel, vice-president; Rex Hanley, secretary; Elizabeth Mollenkopf, treasurer. Mr. Swartz was our class advisor. Next we chose purple and gold as our class colors.

We were found active during the school year in the many school activities such as Football, Basketball, Glee Clubs, Girl Reserves, and Cheer Leader. However, our greatest achievement was presenting the Arbor Day Program.

As beginners, our blankets bore green as the predominating color; they softened into more pleasing shades as the year advanced.

Soon the term was brought to a close with a picnic held in the Etzler Grove, at which all hailed glad welcome to vacation.

With cheery greetings for all, this same group of ambitious boys and girls entered school as "Sophes," with their arrows pointing directly toward Geometry, Latin II, History, etc.

The organizing of our class came first, with the election of Rex Hanley, president; Gail Mohr, vice-president; and Clifford Schaadt, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Jameson was our sponsor.

We chose the daffodil as the class flower, and green and white as our colors. The motto chosen by the class as a standard to live up to was "In the ocean of humanity, we will either sink or swim."

The first form of entertainment was a weiner roast held in Turner's woods, at which the Freshmen were our guests.

As before, we were well represented in the various activities of the school and were proud of the goodly number to receive letters in the field of athletics. This year we gave the Washington and Lincoln birthday program.

With these accomplishments, we closed our school year with a theater party at Van Wert.

September again unites the class of '32 as braves and maidens, who drape our blankets about us and settle down to conquer our many tasks. By this time every member has learned to swim, and with steady continued strokes we find ourselves nearer that goal for which each so earnestly strives to reach.

With Miss Sattler as our class advisor; Rex Hanley, president; Marlin Kilgore, vice-president; and Hazel Rader, secretary-treasurer, we went forward into the many money making projects, namely: bake sales, selling of jello, magazine campaign, etc.

Our feature program of the year was given at Thanksgiving. Still holding our own in the field of activities, we ventured into an unknown territory, the land of class plays and receptions, each proving to be an overwhelming success. Thus we separated for another vacation.

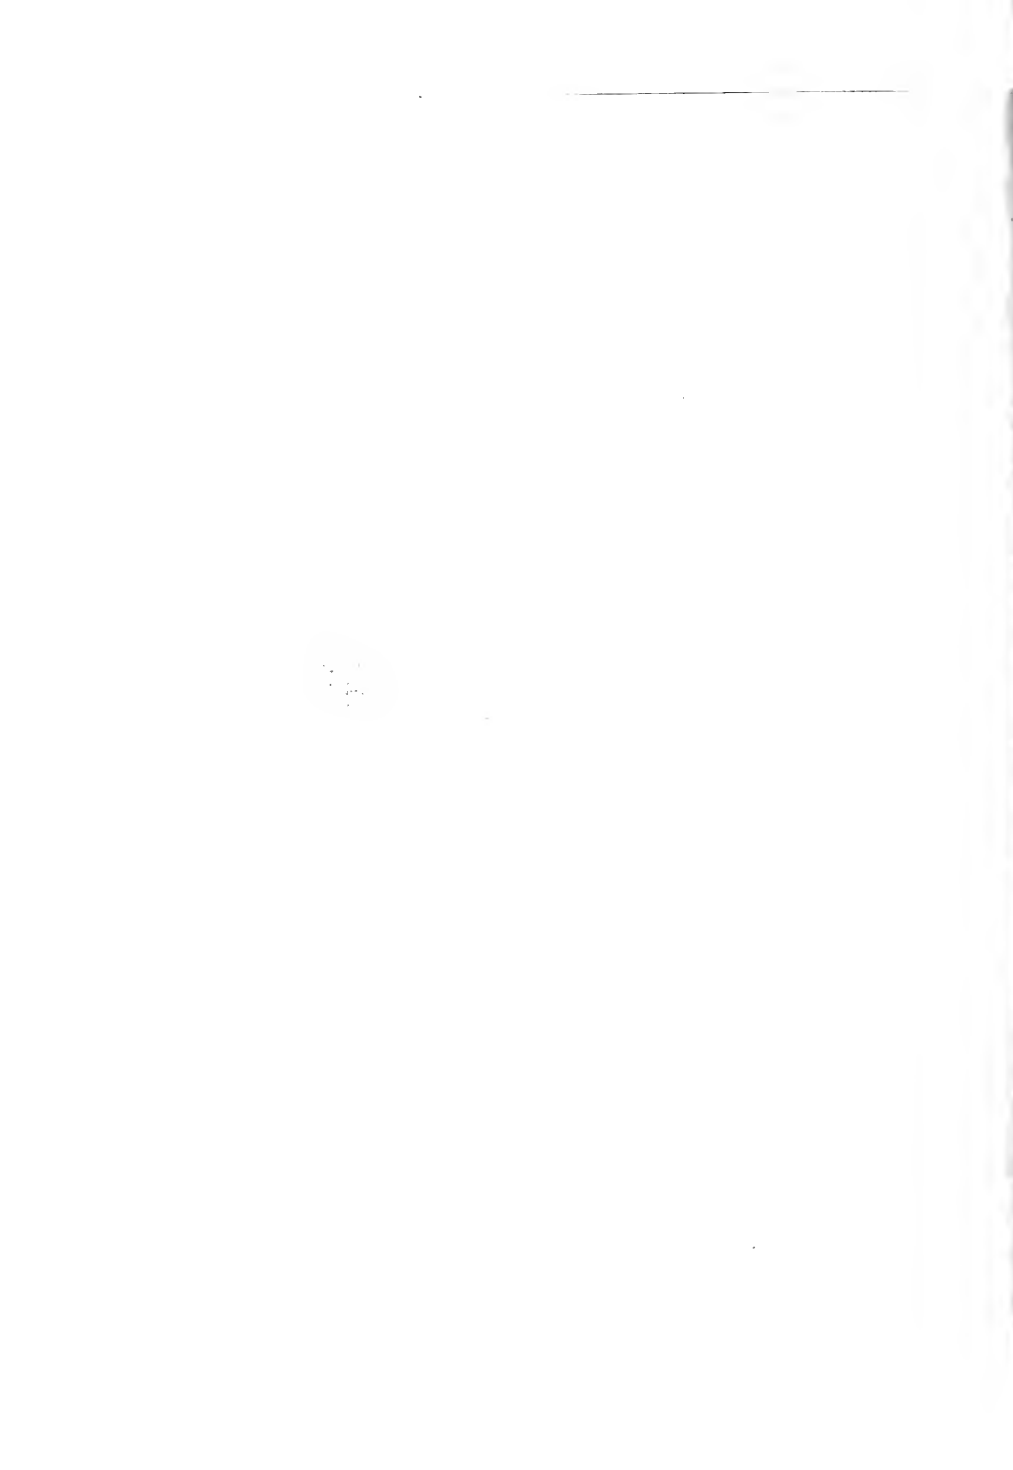

Behold forty chiefs enter upon the last stretch of our high school career!

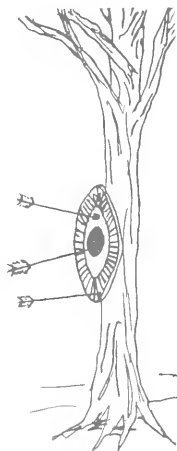

For the last time this tribe chose able leaders, as Gail Mohr, president; Marlin Kilgore, vice-president; and Arthur Mosel, secretary-treasurer, to help in the subduing of our foes, American Problems, Physics, etc.

Still claiming the same motto, class flower, and class colors, we strive to hold our standing as sportsmen and students. Not only the members of the staff but every member of the class worked willingly to make the "Bellerophon" a success.

And now as the class of '32 must swim out of the protected harbor into the open sea, we hope that the knowledge attained at Tully-Convoy High School will be a help to ourselves and our comrades in life.

Class Will

I, Mr. Tully-Convoy Class, Senior, being partly in my right mind the left part being occupied with Problems of American Democracy, do hereby declare my last will and testament. (Not the vest-pocket type.) Where there is a Will, there is a way; I shall probably have many bills, but not always a way of avoiding payment. So, being entirely disgusted with life in general, and Chemistry in particular, I hereby resolve that these feeble parts of my physical being be willed as follows:

My red hair, bestowed on me by Joseph Riley, Lucy Hill, and Marguerite Spry, I leave to Carl Feasby and Maurice Poling.

My giggles, inherited from Gladys Schaffner and Louis Ryan, I give to Ruth Bates.

My brains, from Clifford Schaadt and Ann Shrider, to Bob Holmes.

My eyewinkers, from Ruby Fensler's sky-blue eyes, to Wilson Gehres.

My eyes, the color of and sparkling like Marcelle Meyer's and Rose Gunsett's, I bequeath to Kermit Weisman. May he make use of them.

My height, derived from Erwin Etzler and Edna Horine, I give to Jeanne Long.

My dainty hands, similar to Rex Hanley's and Lloyd Duncan's, I give Hugo Etzler.

My long fingernails, from Art Mosel, I sadly part with, placing them in (on) the hands of John Miller. May he keep them as "long" as I have.

My permanent wave, handed down to me by Alice Brown mostly, but partly by Lewis Fralick, Bruce Elliott, and Helen Foley, I bequeath to Mr. Seartoss.

My muscles, biceps and all, developed like Helen Imler's, I will to Marybelle Davis.

My habit of blushing, from Mervil Rhoades, I leave to Helen Fortney.

My sobriety, from Willard Etzler and Elizabeth Greene, to Donnie Dauler.

My big steps, copied after those of Pauline Cox, I am leaving to Avis Crabtree and Miss Sattler.

My even temper and gentleness, the outgrowth of Eleanor Freck and Elizabeth Mollenkopf, I dedicate to Dimond Paxton.

My girl friends, introduced to me by Reiny and Tinker, I sadly give to Joe Terry and Don Roehm.

My college acquaintances, given me by Marlin Kilgore, I am handing on to Toots Shaffer.

My typing ability, which crops out in Agnes Cox and Fortress Poling, I transmit to Esther Mohr.

My friends from York-shire, called to my attention by Helen Denig, I am leaving for Bill Mohr to look after.

My hand writing, famous throughout the grades, given me by Ernest Wolcale mainly, but supplemented by Hazel Rader, I leave to Herman Bricker.

My cherry smile, bred in me by Wilma Backhus, I give to Ruth Smith and Ruth Terry.

My letter-writing habits, fostered in me by Helen Gehres, I bequeathed to George Whitlock and Norma Etzler.

My glasses that I wear, like Mary Meads and Harriet Long, I leave to Joe Kreischer. May he see things more clearly from now on.

With this heavy load off my chest, I shall peacefully commit myself to the Hereafter, having ended my happy life in Convoy High School.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1929 a group of us, forty-three to be exact, began our high school career. We were called "Freshies," which is the lot of every Freshman Class. During the first week we met with our sponsor, Mr. McCleary, and elected the following class officers: Daniel Pugh, president; James Baker, vice-president; Herman Bricker, secretary-treasurer.

After surviving the first blows of Latin and Algebra, we were able to attend the Freshman-Sophomore weiner roast in Turner's woods. We had looked forward to that big affair and welcomed it because it was our initiation into school life.

Even though we were "Greenies" we were well represented in activities: Glee Clubs, Girl Reserves, County Eisteddfod, Orchestra, and Oratorical contest. Daniel Pugh and Floyd Greulach received letters in football, while our representatives in girls' basketball were Ernestine Shaffer and Jeanne Long. Many of our class took part in the operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum." In fact Ernestine Shaffer was Her Royal Highness, the Princess. Later the spring fever got the best of us, and we felt we must do something desperate. The result was an Arbor Day program, the joy of every Freshman Class that enters Tully-Convoy High School. Our prexy gave us an accordion solo, some of our nightingales sang, and other members of the class gave readings.

After entering school the next fall, we found there were only thirty-three of us to carry on as Sophomores. We met with our new sponsor, Mr. Jameson, and organized, electing: Jeanne Long, president; Lowell Hoelle, vice-president; and Herman Bricker, secretary-treasurer.

This year we resumed our activities. Billy Alexander received a letter in football, and Lowell Hoelle was manager. Jeanne Long received a letter in girls' basketball.

Since we felt real hospitable that fall, we gave a weiner roast in honor of those who were in the same predicament as we had been before. In February at the celebration of the birthday of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, we acted the playlet, "The Wrong George Washington."

Then one morning this fall we awakened to realize that we were Juniors and that Miss Sattler was our sponsor. Again we went to the polls and elected Jeanne Long, president; Bernice Hilton, vice-president; and Herman Bricker, secretary-treasurer. But we were yet fewer in number, there being only twenty-six of us.

Once more we showed that we were wide awake. Those who played football were Guiles Mohr, Arthur Dawson, Hugo Etzler; Avis Crabtree, Jeanne Long, Ernestine Shaffer, and Bernice Hilton represented us in Basketball.

After the McCall contest, the losing side entertained the victors at Avis Crabtree's home.

Our class dues of ten cents a month were not sufficient means of raising money. We sold jello, holly wreaths, candy and sandwiches at football and basketball games, and gave a bake sale.

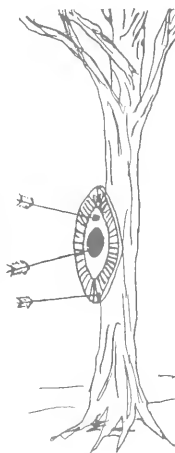

The Thanksgiving program given by our class consisted of the president's Proclamation, several readings, some songs, and a play, "It Could Have Been Worse."

In the Van Wert County Anti-Saloon League Prohibition contest, Jeanne Long won first and Herman Bricker second, making him an alternative. Two representatives from each county in Ohio were given a trip to Washington, D. C.

The Junior Class Play and the Reception were the crowning events in our career as Juniors. Now we are eagerly looking forward to our last year in the halls of Tully-Convoy High School.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

One day in the fall of 1930 forty-four "Freshies" entered the halls of Tully-Convoy High School. Under the direction of our sponsor, Mr. Flickinger, we met and organized our class. With Marybelle Davis as president; James Baker, vice-president; and Joe Terry, secretary-treasurer, we started our first year in high school.

We were welcomed into the activities of high school by the Sophomores at a weiner roast given at Turner's Grove.

Our class was well represented in athletics. William Mohr and Maurice Poling held positions on the football team, while William Mohr, John Miller, and Evelyn Hagerty played on the basketball teams.

A great many of our class took part in the High School operettas, "Polished Pebbles" and "Love Pirates of Hawaii."

The Freshman Arbor Day program and the Temperance program proved to be the most outstanding events of the year for the Freshman Class. In all, our first year was a very successful one.

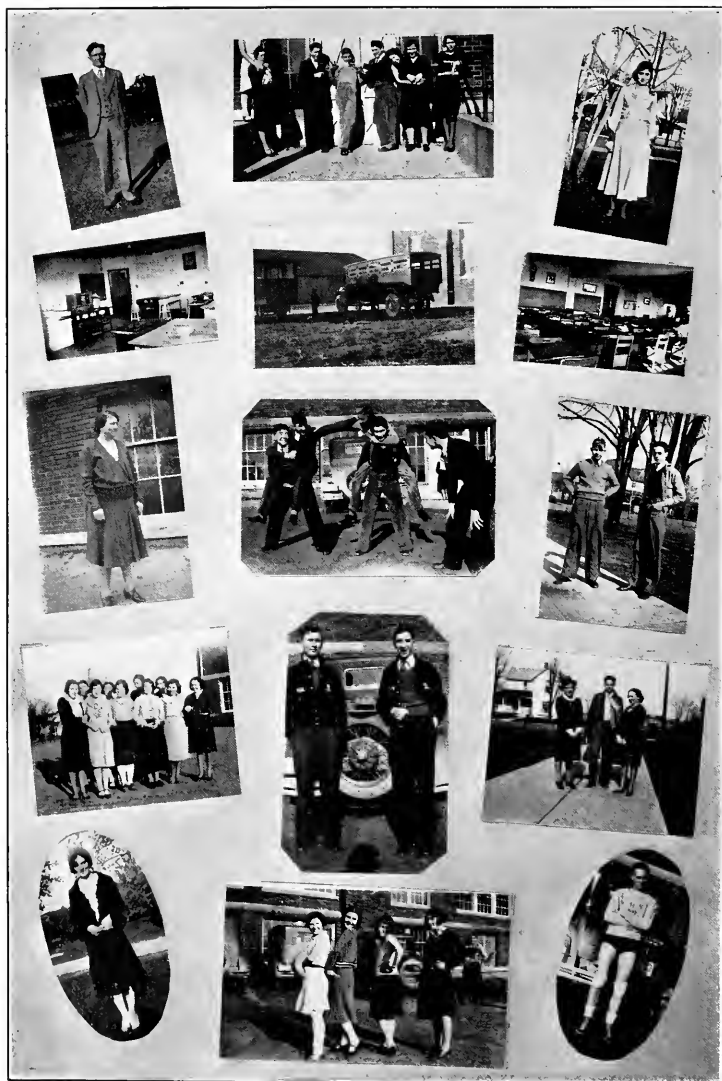

But only thirty-three of this class enrolled as Sophomores. This year we elected William Mohr, president; Ruth Bates, vice-president; and John Miller, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Jameson is our sponsor.

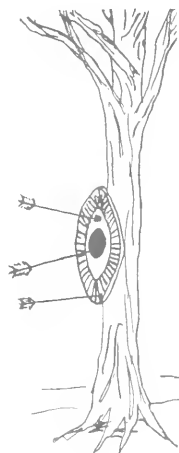

Again our class was well represented in the school activities as well as in athletics. The following Sophomores were on the football squad: William Mohr, Maurice Poling, Robert Holmes, and George Whitlock. Marybelle Davis, Mary Gunsett, Norma Etzler, William Mohr, and George Whitlock were on the basketball squads.

The Sophomores took part in several programs this year.

Although half of our high school days are past, we are looking forward to the coming years in Tully-Convoy High School and hoping the Class of '34 will continue to take an active part in all school life.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

In spite of failures, discouragements, and geography, we finally reached the partals of high school, that mysterious realm where many enter, but few depart. We met the enemies of reading, writing, and 'rithmetic, murdered the King's English, and did other dastardly deeds in our grammar school career under the eyes of our capable instructors.

Some of us flunked the eighth grade exams, some of us dropped out, but thirty-five of us remained true and became Freshmen.

The Latin smote us in the face, followed in turn by Algebra, General Science, and English. We found ourselves puzzled as to the terms "conjugation," "coefficient," "exponent," "theme," and "carbon dioxide." Nevertheless we steadily went ahead, under the guidance of Mr. Searfoss, Mr. Jameson, Mr. Shaffer, and Miss Leslie.

We were honored by an initiation party given us by the Sophmores, at which time were highly entertained and pleasingly refreshed.

In the various high school activities we were very well represented. Velma Zinn and Naomi Mentzer were our two excellent representatives in Girls' Basketball. On the boys' squad, in both Basketball and Football, Donald Dauler and Donald Dawson won honors for the class. We are very proud of all our players.

Since this is our first year in our high school career, we are lacking in much history. But we are sure that three years hence will reveal our hidden qualities and show much improvement.

EIGHTH GRADE HISTORY

The members of the eighth grade met with their sponsor, Mr. Eaton, for their organization meeting, Sept. 14, at which time we elected the following officers: Wanda Friedly, president; Helen Bollenbacher, secretary-treasurer and librarian. We voted to pay ten cents yearly dues to cover our engraving costs in the annual.

Before Thanksgiving, with the help of the seventh grade, we gave a program which consisted of a play, "The Three Thanksgivings," several readings, a playlet, and some musical numbers.

We also entered into the Christmas Spirit by participating in a Christmas Seal Campaign.

During the year we helped in several Chapel programs and heard many talks that were interesting and educational.

We took a number of county tests in Arithmetic and English given by Mr. Bendure.

We think this has been a very successful year and are looking forward to entering Convoy High School next fall.

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY

In September, 1925, a happy group of little folks began their school life under Miss Temple, who met them with her smile. She made the little black characters called letters form words so that the boys and girls might read for themselves. Then they enjoyed the magic adventures of reading their favorite story book.

The following year Miss Balyard welcomed them. They became interested in the life of the Dutch and made a Dutch Farm in the sand table.

When the fire bell rang in their third year they were doubtful about leaving their new books, but when Miss Showalter told them they would be all right, all was well.

Miss Pancake guided us into the path of long division and multiplication.

Next year with the aid of Miss Gardner they made their adventures with the Pilgrims, Washington, and Lincoln. They also studied the stories of American History, which every boy and girl enjoyed so much. They made their public appearance in the operetta, "The Quest of the Pink Parasol."

Decimals and Old World Background were their new interests for the following year, with Miss Driver as leader. They won laurels in Athletics when they won over the Fifth Grade Boys' and Girls' Basketball teams.

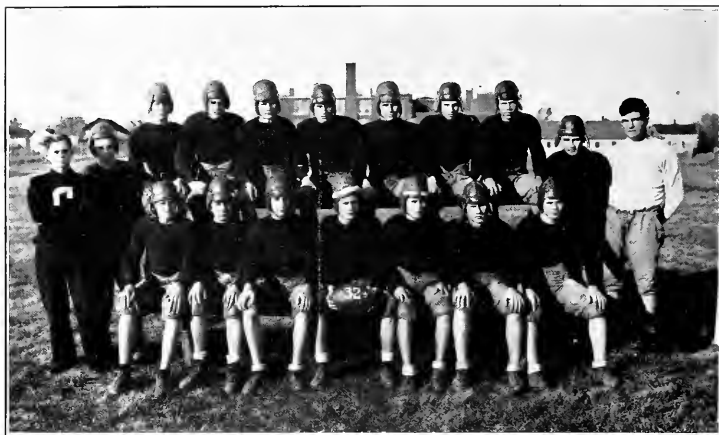

You have guessed by this time that this group is the Seventh Grade. We have an enrollment of forty-three pupils. The new studies of the year are Home Economics for the girls and Manual Training for the boys.

RESUME OF GAMES

The football season was opened by Antwerp defeating Convoy, with a score of 15-0. The game was a hard fought battle all the way, and Antwerp never felt safe. Due to a number of new players the team was inexperienced, but nevertheless the boys played a fine game.

The following week the Convoy boys played their first game on the local grounds. Paulding had in their second string men at first, but soon changed back to their regular line-up. The second half was a tough fight, both sides scoring. Most of Convoy's scores were made by passes, Mohr to Kilgore. Final score, 44-12.

Convoy journeyed to Hicksville and met a decisive defeat by a score of 52-6. The only score of the game came when Bill Mohr picked the ball from the air on the kick-off and ran for a touchdown.

Convoy played their fourth game of football at Payne. C. H. S. made their only score in the third quarter when a punt bounced over the Payne's safety man's head, only touching his fingers. Etzler, Convoy's left end, then fell on the ball in the scoring zone.

The last game of the season was a real battle with the Antwerp eleven, who had defeated our boys in the earlier part of the season. Antwerp made the only score of the game in the first quarter, showing that a fine game was played by every man on the C. H. S. line-up.

WILLIAM MOHR—"Bill"

Captain and Quarterback

Bill played quarterback for Convoy, and at the end of the season was elected Captain by his team-mates. He was a hard-hitting back and played well; yet praise and credit never affected Bill. The Convoy fans will long remember the game when Bill picked the ball from the air on the kick-off and ran for a touch down. He should have two more successful years because he is a Sophomore.

ROBERT H. JAMESON—"Jamie"

Coach

Any player who has played on the Convoy football team in the three years that Coach Jameson has been with us knows that his chief requirement is to be a man. Anyone who complained soon found out that his efforts brought little results. Jamie is greatly respected by every member of the squad, and all consider him a true friend. We hope that Coach Jameson will be back with us next year.

JOSEPH TERRY—"Joe"

Manager

Chosen by the squad as manager, Joe was the instigator of most of our good times. Yet he always saw that the equipment was on the field when needed. Joe's favorite expression was "Let terrible Joe do it." His philosophy of life gave the boys the true Convoy School Spirit.

LLOYD DUNCAN—"Dunc"

Fullback

This was Dunc's first year in football, and he showed himself to be a hard-hitting back and a sure tackler. He fought for all he was worth till the end. He graduates this spring.

ARTHUR DAWSON—"Dawson"

End

Holding a regular position at end, Dawson always fought to the finish. His main work was opening holes for off-tackle plays. Dawson still has another year to play.

CARL FEASBY—"Feasby"

Halfback

Although Feasby was the lightest man on the team, he made up for it with his grim determination to play the game well. He was a regular substitute at halfback and should do big things next season.

GAIL MOHR—"Gail"

Halfback

Gail was a great help in the backfield, gaining most of his ground by splendid end runs. He was always a good fighter and never gave up. Gail earned his third and last letter in football this season.

MAURICE POLING—"Maury"

Guard

Maury was especially good at opening holes for the backfield. This year, his second season, he played guard and filled that position well. We'll hear more about Maury in the future.

GUILLES MOHR—"Mohr"

Tackle

Guiles did not make the first team line-up until the latter part of the season. He was a hard tackler and was always willing to do his best. He has one more year in C. H. S.

ROBERT HOLMES—"Bob"

Guard

During Bob's first year in football he developed into a very good guard and tackle. Since he always did his share of work, he will be a valuable man on next year's team.

HUGO ETZLER—"Hook"

End

Hugo lived up to his nickname by getting plenty of tackles, although he was outweighed by all his opponents. He also gained ground for the team by receiving passes. Hook has one more year on the gridiron.

WARD DENIG—"Bunk"

Tackle

Ward, the heaviest man on the team, was helpful in plugging up holes in the center of the line. We are looking forward to two big years in Ward's football career.

MARLIN KILGORE—"Killy"

Halfback

This year Killy was shifted to the backfield where he became an excellent line plunger. Because of his fine defensive playing and tackling, Killy will be missed next fall.

GEORGE WHITLOCK—"George"

Center

George played a good game at center, unfailingly taking care of his man. This was his first year as a regular, but he has two more seasons ahead of him.

BRUCE ELLIOTT—"Harve"

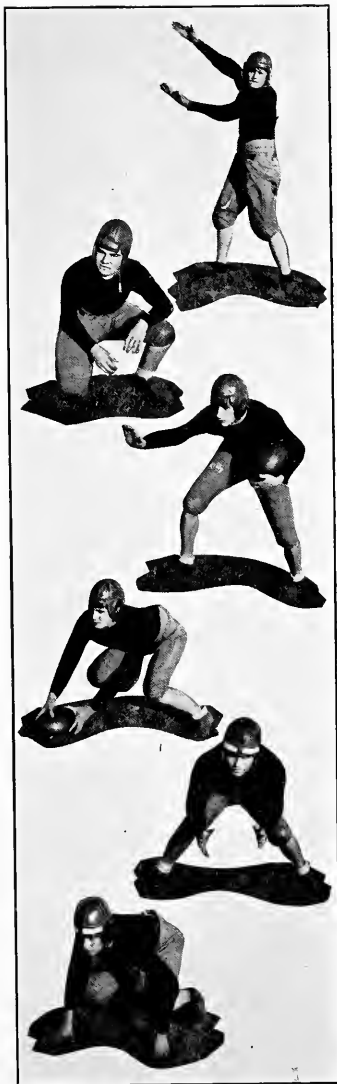

Tackle

Bruce was one of the best tackles on the team. He was always out to practice, and played in every game. This was Bruce's last year.

DONALD ROEHM—"Don"

Guard

Don was very loyal to the team, and seldom missed a practice. He never lacked in fighting spirit this year, and will probably progress even farther in the next two years.

ROBERT H. JAMESON—"Jamie"

Coach

Coach Jameson has just completed his third year as basketball mentor at Convoy. Jamie is one who likes the game and enjoys working with the boys. He quickly discerned the hidden qualities in any player and usually managed to bring them to the front. His outward quiet and calmness when things were most exciting was a trait which made all who knew him admire him. His training taught the players true sportsmanship, and the spirit of fair play. We hope Mr. Jameson will be back next year to keep up the good work.

DARWIN C. EATON

Coach

Although this season was not so successful, we would have failed completely without Mr. Eaton's "a team that won't be beat, can't be beat." He gave us good encouragement and was always untiring in his efforts to make the team better in every way. He figured out many new plans to baffle our opponents. We hope Mr. Eaton will have more success next year.

WILSON GEHRES—"Dick"

Manager

This was Dick's first year as manager, and he proved himself a worthy one. He always saw to it that the equipment was all present, and tried to help the boys and girls in every way. His co-operation with the teams and Coaches was a great factor in making the season of '31-'32 what it turned out to be. The boys and girls therefore express their most sincere thanks to the manager for his untiring work and cheery encouragement.

RESUME OF GIRLS' AND BOYS' GAMES

The Tully-Convoy High School basketball teams started the season by defeating the Alumni. The girls won by a score of 22-13 and the boys 19-14.

The next games were played with Middlepoint, and proved to be very interesting. The C. H. S. girls won by a small margin of 13-14. The boys were defeated in a double overtime by a score of 17-18.

The following Friday night Convoy journeyed to Grover Hill, winning both games. They were both slow throughout, the girls' score being 23-20 while the boys' was 27-10.

The Red and White girls were defeated for the first time by Mark Center, with a final score of 25-9. Due to the size of the Mark Center boys' team, Convoy boys were defeated by a score of 25-15.

One of the most exciting games of the season was played at Wren. The Red and White girls lost by a low score of 23-22. Playing excellent teamwork, the C. H. S. boys brought home another victory by downing Wren with an 18-13 lead.

Convoy-Willshire girls were evenly matched, indicated by the final score of 20 all. The Convoy boys won an easy game with a score of 19-11.

Haviland girls proved too much for the Red and White. The final score found the locals trailing 7-31. In a game resembling football, Convoy boys were handed a defeat by the Haviland quintet. When the final whistle blew the score was 16-24.

In a rough and tumble game, Convoy girls gave Wren a defeat with a score of 13-11. The Wren boys came to Convoy determined to win, but their plans were soon changed when the C. H. S. boys played excellent ball and won by a margin of three points.

The following week the local girls were defeated by Union, with a score of 13-10. In a fast, interesting game, our quintet defeated Union in the last few minutes of play, the score standing 18-20.

The Convoy girls again met defeat with Ridge, 21-13. One of the best played games of the season was exhibited that night, when C. H. S. lads downed Ridge to the tune of 19-24.

The dope bucket was upset by the Red and White girls when they won from Hoaglin-Jackson, 23-13. Being outscored in the second half, the local boys took a defeat from Hoaglin-Jackson. Score, 19-24.

Ohio City proved too much for the local sextette, defeating them 23-12. Convoy boys came back in the winning column, defeating the Red and Green 25-21.

Both local teams were defeated by the Haviland teams on the home floor, the girls' score being 32-8, and the boys' 35-15.

In a great defensive battle C. H. S. girls won from York. When the gun cracked the score was 14-10. The Convoy boys met one of the hardest defeats of the season when they were defeated by the Blue and White in a very interesting game. Score, 21-16.

Convoy girls won a very easy game with Payne, having a 18-9 lead. Payne proved too much for the C. H. S. quintet when they outplayed the locals, ending with a score of 19-10.

The Convoy girls finished their schedule by playing a tie-game with Middlepoint; score, 13-13. Convoy boys were again defeated by Middlepoint in an overtime period, by a small margin of one point.

ELIZABETH GREENE

Center and Captain

Elizabeth played her position at center excellently. She was a good shot from any position on the floor, which accounts for her being Convoy's high point player. Not only was she good on the offense, but also on the defense, by keeping her opponents to a low score. We are sorry this is Elizabeth's last year, and we feel that she justly deserves the honor of being captain, an honor which was bestowed upon her by her team-mates.

3-letter girl.

HELEN GEHRES

Forward

Helen substituted at forward quite regularly. Due to her clean playing and beautiful long shots, she has been considered one of the squad. She will always be remembered for her friendliness and co-operation with the rest of the team. We are sorry Helen can't play again next year.

HELEN DENIG

Guard

Helen was a guard that the team could depend upon. She was quick and displayed good team-work, thus giving our forwards a better chance to score. She was a good sport and used clean playing. We are sorry this is her last year with the team.

1-letter girl.

MARY GUNSETT

Forward

Although Mary played forward, she was also substituted regularly at guard. She played each position well and was considered one of the team. She was always encouraging, and did her best at all times. Mary has two more years with the team.

1-letter girl.

AGNES COX

Guard

Although Agnes was not a regular member of the team, she could always be depended upon to do her best. She gave the team plenty of encouragement and was a fine sport. This is her last year of basketball.

ROSE GUNSETT

Guard

"Ever dependable" is the well-deserved title of Rose. She intercepted many passes and helped in keeping the opponents' score in the lower region. Rose's good will and clean playing will long be remembered and missed.

1-letter girl.

ELEANOR FRECK

Guard

Eleanor did not play regularly, but often substituted at guard. She always did all in her power to help the team win. She was not only a good player but also a good sport. This is Eleanor's last year.

AVIS CRABTREE

Forward

Avis's quickness made her very hard to guard. She was untiring in her efforts and cheered the rest of the team to an unlimited degree. She was a good shot from any point on the floor. We are glad that Avis has another year with the team.

1-letter girl.

ELIZABETH MOLLENKOPF

Guard

Elizabeth has proved to be a very valuable guard—one that will be long remembered. She was always brim full of pep and could always be depended upon to do her part. As a defensive player, she could hardly be excelled. She broke up many dribbles of the opponents, keeping their score low.

2-letter girl.

JEANNE LONG

Forward

Due to her good playing and those thrilling "last minute shots," Jeanne has been considered one of our team's finest forwards, her height helping her out very much. She was always full of pep and tried to make everyone else feel the same way. Jeanne has one more year with the team

2-letter girl.

WILLIAM MOHR—"Bill"

Guard

Bill played guard for Convoy this year. He was good not only on the defense, but also on the offense, besides contributing many points from the foul line. He was selected guard on the County All-Star Team by Tournament Officials. Although he played exceptionally well this year, we expect greater things from him in the next two years.

REX HANLEY—"Rex"

Guard

Rex played guard this year and proved himself an excellent one. He was good at shots from around the center of the floor as well as close ones. Rex was a good defensive player and was always willing to fight until the final whistle blew. He will be greatly missed by the team next year.

LOWELL HOELLE—"Hoelle"

Guard

Hoelle played in several games as guard. He always put up a good fight when called upon and did everything in his power to help the team win. With the ability displayed in the games he played, we expect great things from Hoelle next year.

REINHARD ETZLER—"Reiny"

Captain and Center

Reiny was well chosen as the captain of the team. By his clever playing and teamwork he outwitted his opponents many times. The team could always depend on Reiny to get the tip-off and keep the ball going. He was high point man of the season and was selected center on the Second All-Star Team by Tournament Officials. The team will miss Reiny next year.

MERLIN SMITH—"Tinker"

Forward

Tinker played forward for C. H. S. this year and was one of the fastest men on the team. He showed a lot of pep and fight at all times. He played his best game at the County Tournament in the Middle-point game. We are sorry that Tinker is leaving too, this Spring.

KERMIT WISEMAN—"Kermie"

Forward

Although Kermit was the smallest man on the team, he made up for it with his fighting spirit. He was an accurate shot and seldom failed to make a basket when the ball was passed to him. We are glad that he will return next year.

GAIL MOHR—"Gail"

Forward

This was Gail's third year on the Convoy basketball squad. He played forward during the entire season and was especially good in making shots from the side of the floor. Gail was an excellent defensive forward and we are sorry to say that he has finished his basketball career.

MARLIN KILGORE—"Killy"

Forward

Killy's regular position was forward, although he was frequently called upon to play guard. Kilgore was a good defensive player, and a hard worker at all times. He was a good dribbler and was always there to get the ball off the backboard. Killy graduates this Spring.

VAN WERT COUNTY TOURNAMENT

The Convoy boys played Middlepoint in the first session of the tournament, February the twenty-fifth, in the Van Wert school gymnasium.

The C. H. S. boys started to score after the first few minutes of play. Middlepoint soon tied the score, which remained close during the entire game. At the end of the third quarter Middlepoint was leading the C. H. S. boys three points. But in the final quarter the locals were determined to win and they came through with a 15-18 victory. This gave them the right to meet Union the following night.

Friday night the Convoy quintet played Union. The first part of the game was slow and little scoring was done. In the second quarter both teams showed a great deal more fight, and as the first half ended, Convoy had a slight lead. In the second half both teams played a better brand of ball. Union came back with a great deal more fight and held a three point lead at the quarter. In the fourth quarter the C. H. S. boys played excellent ball to secure a lead of two points, and from then on used a stalling offense; and the final score was 16-18.

In the semi-finals, Saturday afternoon, Convoy met York. The locals were soon under way and held a 9-2 lead at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter York played better ball and Convoy held a slim one point lead at the half. In the second half, since Convoy did not play its usual type of ball, York scored a number of shots, which put them in the lead. This lead was never overcome, and York won the game by a score of 29-16.

INTER-CLASS TOURNAMENT

For the second time in the History of the United States, an inter-class tournament was carried on by the pupils of the Tully-Convoy High School. For years, the only ones who were benefited by basketball were those who played on the regular teams. But the present generation is taking a new attitude toward sports, and everyone wants a chance to play the game. The success of this friendly tournament seems to prophesy that future students will participate only in inter-class basketball. More interest was shown at these games than at some of the regular league games.

Several activity periods, noon-hours, and two evenings were taken up by the tournament. Some of those untrained players really put up a fight. But when it came down to brass tacks, on Tuesday night, March 1st, the Seniors "brought home the bacon." The girls beat the Juniors, and the boys overpowered the Sophomores. After the trophies were duly presented to the two captains by Coaches Eaton and Jameson, everyone went home, happy and looking forward to the tournament of 1933.

BELLEROPHON STAFF

The Staff, chosen by Mr. Shaffer and Miss McCleary, has worked with only one aim in view: to publish an Annual worthy of our school, our parents, and our teachers. We have tried to put spice into it by means of snap-shots, taken or collected by Mary Meads. The football and basketball write-ups, submitted by Reinhard Etzler and Elizabeth Greene, try to portray those loyal players as we saw them in school activities. The jokes, chosen by Bruce Elliott, and the typing work done by our three typists, are the results of hours of tedious work. To the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman editors we owe thanks for class histories and the reports of all social affairs. The jobs of the Editor-in-Chief and her assistant, the Business Managers, and Sales Managers are fairly well known; yet no one can realize the work than an Annual takes. If this, the Ninth Volume of the Bellerophon, pleases its readers, our fondest hopes will be realized.

GIRL RESERVES

The Yovnoc Girl Reserve Club organized last fall for the sixth successive year, with a membership of thirty-five. Meetings were held every two weeks, with alternate meetings at the girls' homes. Topics such as Health, Friendship, Music, or Poetry were discussed at each meeting together with the singing of pep songs and special music. Our cabinet this year consisted of the following members: Harriet Long, president; Rose Gunsett, vice-president; Marybelle Davis, secretary-treasurer; Miss Helen McCleary, sponsor. These officers have been responsible for much of the success of our club.

Our first social event of the year was a weiner-roast and hike. The activities of the year were brought to a close by a May Breakfast in honor of the Senior girls.

While we were having these good times we did not forget others. At Thanksgiving time we gave baskets of food to the needy of our community. This year each girl had a cheer-sister, some other Girl Reserve member, to whom she wrote cheery notes and gave small gifts.

A new project for our club this year was the earning Girl Reserve rings by trying to live up to a code of rules. Each girl was her own judge as to whether she had kept these rules, thereby making her life better.

By trying to live up to our code and purpose, "To find and give the best" and to practice our slogan, "To face life squarely," we have gained much in making our lives more worth while. May the girls of each succeeding year gain even more!

BAND

Practically all of the schools in the county have a band, and Convoy has long felt the need of such an organization. On October 15th Miss Leslie, our new Music Supervisor, organized a band with fifteen enthusiastic members. Since that time sixteen pupils from wind instrumental classes have been admitted to the group. Rehearsals were held each week on Thursday morning, at eleven o'clock, and judging from the direction of the musical strains, the practices were held in Room 6. To the listener it was evident that much improvement had been made since those first few weeks of work.

The books used were the Willis Graded Band Course and the Junior Band Folio. The appearances which the band made in Chapel programs and at special entertainments were well received.

The sister organization, the Orchestra, is also progressing. Next year we will really have plenty of melodies floating around. But for the present, three cheers for the band!

MIXED CHORUS

This year September brought us a new Supervisor of Music, Miss Grace Leslie, and sixty eager members for Mixed Chorus. After the many voice tests had been given, we were finally given definite seats and real work began.

The first part of the year we learned many worth while songs from the works of the old masters, such as Handel's "Largo," from the opera, "Xerxes," "O Rest in the Lord" from Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "Elijah," and "Who is Sylvia" by Schubert. Besides these heavier works we also learned many lighter songs which we sang just for enjoyment.

The latter half of the year we gave a romantic musical comedy, "The Gypsy Rover," by May Hewes Dodge and John Wilson Dodge. Considering the many happy hours spent at mixed chorus and all of the valuable things we learned at the rehearsals each Friday, not one of us can say that Mixed Chorus is not a worthy musical organizations.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Each year we find that more interest is being shown towards the Boys' Glee Club of Tully-Convoy High School. The members are realizing more and more what benefits they derive from this extra-curricular activity. Membership to the club is open to all high school boys who are interested in music.

This year the Glee Club had a membership of thirty students. They met with their director, Miss Leslie, the first week of school and chose the following officers: Rex Hanley, president; Herman Bricker, secretary; and William Mohr, librarian. The club meets every Wednesday afternoon for its rehearsals.

The Glee Club took a prominent part in the school activities. They entertained the Farmers' Institute with three numbers: "Soldiers Chorus" from Faust, "Massa Dear" from the New World Symphony by Dvorak, and "Two Roses" by H. Werner. They appeared in several Chapel programs given by the different classes of the High School. They were also seen and heard in the operetta given by the two Glee Clubs.

The Boys' Glee Club of Tully-Convoy was represented by Gail Mohr, Herman Bricker, and William Mohr in the State Chorus at Columbus.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Every year the girls feel a need to exercise their vocal chords; and the result is the formation of a Girls' Glee Club. As the name infers, it is a place where everyone forgets her troubles and joins in the singing.

This year we had one of the largest groups that has ever been enlisted in our Glee Club, the roll numbering forty-four. Each Tuesday afternoon we met in Room Six to practice songs for Chapel, Farmers' Institute, Operetta, and for our own enjoyment. Some of our favorite numbers were, "Golden Slumber," "Amaryllis," and "Ash Grove Tree." The operetta, "Gypsy Rover," took many weeks of our practice.

Three of our number sang in a sextette on various occasions. Jeanne Long, Ernestine Shaffer, and Harriet Long were the three girls who went to Columbus, during Christmas vacation, to sing in a state high school chorus.

The officers of our club were as follows: Harriet Long, president; Lela Fensler, secretary; and Marybelle Davis, librarian. The council members were Alice Trego and Ernestine Shaffer.

SYNOPSIS

Sidney Smith is a rich Sausage manufacturer, whose temper often gives way to quick and insulting answers. He is disgusted with his son, Arthur, who wants to go into the investment business. Smith makes a wager with Arthur that he won't like golf. He does and then goes on a six month's vacation, playing golf on all the best links in the world, while Arthur runs the business.

During the six months time, Arthur has changed into a character almost like his father. With the help of an attorney, Dick Brainard, Arthur makes a success of the investment business; and with the help of Karmen, an advertising solicitor, he makes a success of the sausage business.

Arthur's sister, Jane, found that she had false illusions concerning society, and after discovering the true character of Lord Dabney, changes to a sensible and lovable person. She finally becomes engaged to Dick Brainard, who is not the crook he at first appeared to be. Rose is another lovable character, who is in love with Arthur, and at times gives him more concern than happiness. Of course nothing could keep them apart and their engagement was an inevitable ending. The periods of dramatic tension are broken by the comic actions of Peggy, while calling on the Smiths, and by Mrs. Stevens and Marie, both of whom are employed by Smith.

Blair, garage man.....	Reinhard Etzler
Gladys.....	Rose Gunsett

This comedy-mystery play, “Ace High,” is a gripping story of home life, run by Mrs. Jones, the society-made wife of a fertilizer king. Mrs. Jones does her best to have Gladys, the daughter who is “out gunning for a husband,” marry an English noble, Lord Ranleigh. Mr. Jones, called “Parker,” because “Peter” is so common, loves Illinois and the simple life. The son, Morey, and younger daughter, Kit, agree with him fully. Mrs. Jones’s attempts at match-making are futile, because Morey marries “that Cowan girl,” and Kit gets her garage-man, Blair. The crook who assumes the role of Lord Ranleigh goes straight because of Kit, shows up Mrs. Jones’s society guest as a noted crook, and foils the joint plan of this Mrs. Maxfield and the butler to swipe the family jewels. In the end “the worm turns,” Mr. Jones asserts his authority, and the family moves back to “dear old Illinois.”

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Atmospheric pressure was quite high the week preceding May 15, 1931, because excitement was in the air. That was the date set for the Junior-Senior Reception, the first of its kind to be held in Tully-Convoy High School. Formerly there were elaborate banquets given the Seniors; but this year the Juniors decided to be sensible and show the Seniors just as good a time at a party. Much as they hated to admit it, the Seniors were every bit as excited as the busy Juniors.

At the appointed time, autos began to swarm to the building, unloading their precious cargoes of Seniors, Seniors-to-be, the members of the faculty, and the school board members with their wives. What a riot of color—powder blues, apple greens, sky blues, pinks, and flaming reds, not to mention white, were a few of the colors of those gorgeous evening dresses. The aspect was radically different from that in a school room.

Upon entering the gymnasium—But, wonder of wonders! (It wasn't a gym at all, it was a Hawaiian beach.) In the beautiful blue sky overhead hung a pale golden moon, smiling down on the activities of the evening. Palms and ferns were found growing along the shore, while some brightly colored beach umbrella lifted their heads here and there among the tables. Jack-o'-Lanterns cast a weird glow over the beach, showing festoons of red and white, the school colors, orchid and yellow, the Senior colors, and green and white, the Junior colors. The effect of the whole room was strikingly beautiful.

As each one entered the gym, he was handed a slip of paper, with a name on it. A general hubbub followed, because everyone was hunting a partner. When all were successful in the quest, peace came to the gathering, and the fun began.

The welcome was given by the Junior Class president, Rex Hanley, followed by an official national proclamation, read by Arthur Mosel. This was a proclamation of the president of the United States, declaring that night, May 15, as being set aside for this gala affair.

After all were duly welcomed, the guests, hosts, and hostesses showed their intelligence, or "lack of it," in a contest similar to "Ask Me Another." At the end of three minute periods, every table advanced. When that strenuous exercise was over, Harriet Long played a piano solo with gloves on. Then a strange beetle called a "cootie" appeared, bringing a "scratching" good time along with him. A number of accomplished dice-throwers showed up during the game. Suddenly someone looked up at the stage and of course everyone turned around. Such a sight! (Eight beautiful chorus girls had appeared from nowhere and had begun their act. Close observation revealed that they weren't chorus girls at all, but eight Junior boys dancing like professionals, but falling down like two-year olds.) The results were bad.

The next number on the program was to have been a monkey act, given by Marlin Kilgore and Arthur Mosel, his trainer. For a week, a rope had been hanging from the ceiling of the stage, arousing everybody's curiosity, including that of the Seniors. Then at the last minute Killy found that he couldn't get his "hide."

As a fitting conclusion to such a program, the Juniors gave a play, "Senior Prophecy," written especially for the occasion. Of course a big laugh followed this bit of nonsense.

At last the Sophomore waitresses served the "eats," which consisted of dainty chicken sandwiches, ice cream, cake, nuts, and coffee. Having successfully disposed of the refreshments, everyone departed, declaring that each had had either a "swell" or a "scrumptious" time.

—Arthur Mosel.

SENIOR PARTY

The Army and Navy always were noted rivals. But no contest ever waged between the two was any hotter than the Senior McCall Army-Navy contest. Both sides worked, and slaved, and sweat, and sold magazine subscriptions. Yet one side had to lose, and this unlucky group of individuals was the Navy. The forfeit was a party.

That night it rained "cats and dogs"—not enough of them, though to keep the Seniors at home. In the school cafeteria sounds such as "you bid 90," or "we're 85 in the hole!" were heard. Meanwhile some of the boys played the dignified game of "Pig," quieting down only when apples and popcorn were brought in.

The final game of the evening was "Spin the Bottle," when everyone gathered in a circle around the milk bottle on the floor. Tasks such as going up through the Assembly in the dark, or walking the entire length of every hall, were given the two victims of each spin. Everyone seemed to enjoy himself or herself, as the case might be, and hoped that succeeding classes could have contests end as happily as ours did.

JUNIOR PARTY

On the night of the eleventh of November, 1931, the Juniors, one and all, and all in one body, went out to the home of Avis Crabtree, located in the suburbs of Convoy. The losers of the McCall campaign entertained the winners. And what an evening! Everyone entered into the games that were played, thus working up quite an appetite for the refreshments that followed. Having successfully disposed of every morsel of food, the Juniors left, tired but blissful.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE WEINER ROAST

The Sophomores, feeling sorry for the Freshmen last fall, invited them to a weiner-roast in Turner's woods. After meeting at the school house, the two classes with their sponsors, Mr. Jameson and Mr. Searfoss, walked out to the appointed place. The weiners sizzled, the marshmallows toasted, and the rolls quickly disappeared. When everything in sight was eaten, a joke-telling contest, small addition of the "Tall Story Club," was begun and kept up until all were exhausted. Then came the fun of carrying water to put out the fire, and the long journey homeward.

BASKETBALL GIRLS' PARTY

The basketball girls were entertained at the home of Eleanor Freck on a certain Thursday night, shortly before the end of the basketball season. The girls all wore gingham dresses and hair ribbons. After many murders were committed, while playing the ever popular game of "Murder," and their shooting skill displayed in "Skillball," the refreshments were served. Other parties were held by this congenial group of girls later in the year.

GIRL RESERVE PARTIES

The Girl Reserves began their social affairs with a hike and weiner-roast, in September. They gathered sticks, made a fire, toasted marshmallows and weiners, and sang songs. After their satisfying supper they hiked back home in the moonlight.

Their last get-together was on May twenty-first, when they originated the idea of having a May Breakfast in honor of the Senior members who were graduating. The lower three classes entertained royally, having a very lovely breakfast. Not toast and coffee!

FOOTBALL SUPPER

In recognition of their fine work, the football fellows were given a supper in the school cafeteria. Miss McCleary, who was responsible for it, was helped by some of the Home Economics girls. The supper was a big success, and was appreciated by all the fellows. It pays to play football!

TEACHERS' PARTY

Kiddie-cars! Think of it! At the teachers' party last November the new teachers, Miss Temple, Miss Leslie, and Mr. Searfoss, were entertained and initiated by the other teachers of the grades and high school. The new members were made to ride kiddie-cars and do other dignified stunts. After everyone had had a lot of fun, ice cream, cake, coffee, and nuts, everyone left the schoolhouse. Mrs. Hertel's first grade room was the scene of this solemn (?) party. When pupils are away, teachers will play.

It was the dear old lady's first ride in a coach and she watched with growing alarm the driver continually putting his hand out the window as a signal to the following traffic. At last she became very angry.

"Young man," she said, "you look after that bus of yours and watch where you are going. I'll tell you when it starts raining!"

Class of 1932

HENRY CLAY

Aunt Maria, a negro cook specializing in molasses cookies, was one day asked to give her receipt.

"It's an easy one," she replied.

"Ah takes a cup of flour, more or lee, and ah adds two gullups of molasses.

"But what are gullups?"

"Why honey don't you know? When you has a jug of molasses and turns it up, it says 'gullup,' runs a littel more, then says 'gullup' again. Well ah takes those two."
